How to use this booklet

This is a list of charities and services which you, your family and friends may find useful. It is divided into sections for your ease of reference.

The Contents Page will help you to find the sections relevant to your query/search and provides the relevant page number(s).

The first section in the booklet lists key charities/organisations that can direct you to the relevant charity/service if you are unsure which charity/service may be the best for your needs/query. The subsequent sections are listed in alphabetical order.

The index at the end of this booklet lists charities and services in alphabetical order together with their page number(s).

Charities may be represented in several sections of this booklet, depending on if they supply multiple types of services offered.

Disclaimer

We cannot recommend any of these charities or services personally and whilst we have tried our best to check all the information we have listed is correct and up to date we acknowledge this information may change. If you are thinking of using any service or contacting any charity listed in this booklet it is your responsibility to check their credentials

ARMY WELFARE SERVICE (AWS)

<https://www.army.mod.uk/people/health-wellbeing-welfare-support/welfare-support/the-army-welfare-service-aws/>

Personal Support staff provide accessible, independent, confidential and professional specialist welfare services to Service Personnel and their families; and in doing so strengthen and enhance the resilience and resourcefulness of Service personnel and their families. Personal Support services help with matters such as Domestic Abuse, Child & Adult Safeguarding, Bereavement, Relationship Difficulties, Stress & Anxiety Management, Emotional Well-being, and Signposting. For all Personal Support enquiries and referrals please contact the Intake and Assessment Team (the AWS welfare single point of contact) at: RC-AWS-IAT-0Mailbox@mod.gov.uk or 01904 882053 (civ) / 94777 3053 (mil).

The Army Mediation Service (AMS) provides soldiers and civil servants with the opportunity to address workplace relationships which have broken down by offering resolution at the appropriate level of escalation. Mediation is most effective when used to address problems when they first occur so that individuals can resolve issues before they get out of hand. The AMS can be contacted for advice and support on Mil 96770 7691 or Civ 0306 770 7691 or e-mail Army-Mediation-0Mailbox@mod.gov.uk.

Wholeforce Bullying, Harassment & Discrimination (BHD) helpline for Civilian and Military personnel. Individuals will be able to discuss incidents with trained BHD advisors and get in the moment support, guidance and advice on taking issues forward. The number is 0800 783 0334 and is free to call 24/7.
